BUSINESS AREA IS EXTENDED AS ZONE MEASURE STUDIED

Final Draft of Proposal Will Be Made—Commission Is Near End of Plan

NINTH STREET AFFECTED

City Council Will Soon Get Draft of Law for Final Consideration

Business will be allowed on Ninth street east of Tenth avenue, formerly Craig avenue, under the terms of the proposed city zoning ordinance, approved for final wording by the city planning commission last night.

Residents of the East Ninth street area, in the public hearing March 17, sought the permission for business. In granting the request at a closed meeting last night, the commission acted on the final issue before the group. Edward E. Gray, city attorney, was authorized to prepare the final draft of the measure. The meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of Chairman W. K. Beattie. The meeting will be held when the final draft is ready. At that time the commission will adopt a resolution approving the zoning ordinance and send it to the city council for further consideration.

Business Area Outlined

As the proposed measure now stands, business will be permitted in the regular downtown business area on Foothill boulevard, 165 feet east of Euclid avenue to the city limits and on Ninth street, east of Tenth avenue. Commercial poultry projects will be also permitted in the East Ninth street region.

Restrictions on residential buildings are unchanged over the original plan of the commission. Three residential zones are created, with strict limitations on Euclid avenue north of Fifteenth street, with less strict regulations on Euclid south of Fifteenth street, and on the adjacent avenues with duplex houses and apartment houses permitted on thoroughfares in the outlying areas.

During the two public hearings, only the business and poultry restrictions were attacked and the changes made by the commission in general conform to the request of the residents concerned.

City Guide Is Goal

Faced with criticism by persons vitally interested in certain areas, the commission members have worked diligently toward the goal of giving the city a zoning measure that would protect property from future infractions and would be a guide in the future development of the city.

For more than two years, the commission has delved into the needs of the community and in the draft of the proposal presented at the first public hearing Feb. 28, the commission had more or less of their ideal of what the community should have. Objections and suggestions at that hearing and at the one March 17, changed the proposal more or less, with enough business area now provided for a city of many thousands.

Hours and hours of study and deliberation were expended by the commission members. Many in the community are grateful for their efforts. Euclid avenue has been fully protected from business and other features of the proposed ordinance will long remain as evidence of the commission's desire to adequately protect the city.

After the commission has its meeting to consider the final draft of the proposal, it will then be sent to the city council. The council is required by law to have a hearing. Following the hearing the measure will then be up for final passage by the council.

21 Truck Loads of Rock Removed From Hospital Grounds

Removal of 21 truck loads of rock and the landscaping of the grounds are the recent improvements at the San Antonio Community hospital. Shrubbery and flowers were planted in proper places around the southwest side of the building.

The landscaping was such that additional plants can be placed from time to time to greatly aid the appearance of the structure.

Former Residents of Humboldt Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Faust and two children of Long Beach returned yesterday to their home after being guests here of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jacobs, 767 Third avenue. They also were luncheon guests of Mrs. Nora M. Eells and visited with other friends, including Mr. and Mrs. W. B. West, all of them formerly having been residents of Humboldt, Iowa.

The Fausts were in Long Beach during the earthquake and Mr. Faust was painfully injured by falling bricks as he left his place of business. He suffered a broken leg and foot and severe bruises about his head. A woman who ran from the building just ahead of him was killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Faust and Mrs. Faust's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preble, also formerly of Humboldt and now living in Long Beach, plan to leave soon for Iowa to spend the summer.

ORCHARD HEATING, SNOW STORM FINAL BLAST OF SEASON

One of Latest Periods for "Firing" Recorded as Mercury Drops

MOUNTAINS GET FLURRY

Drop in Temperature, Storm Comes After Rain Threatens District

Although a belated snowstorm in the mountains on Thursday brought somewhat lower temperatures to the valley this morning than is customarily expected at this time of year, still no concern was felt for the safety of citrus fruit in the Upland district. There was a light frost in some open spaces around Upland this morning and the minimum temperature as recorded by T. R. Woodbridge of the Liberty Groves Operating Corporation, was 31½ degrees remaining at that point for only a short time.

In the Alta Loma foothill region, lemon growers lighted their orchard heaters and this morning many residents of the valley were surprised to see smudge smoke screening the mountains.

Reports from the mountain resorts tell of a snowstorm in that section, Camp Baldy reporting snow falling in large flakes from 3 to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At Ice House Canyon resort snow fell from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., but melted rapidly and was practically all gone this morning. The temperature there was estimated at about 20 above zero.

No rain was reported from any of the mountain districts.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Fern Triplett and Mrs. Doris Colborn, both of Orange; two sisters, Mrs. Maggie Stingley of Visalia, and Mrs. Winnie Black of Long Beach; two brothers, Theodore and Joseph O'Connell, both of Long Beach.

Mr. O'Connell was a member of the Fraternal Aid Union

Funeral service will be held at the Stone funeral home, but the time of service has not yet been decided. The officiating ministers will be the Rev. Alvin C. Many women of the club are working on the details in connection with publication of the book. When issued, the volume will be sold to the public, proceeds of which will go to the club building fund.

This is the first time in many years the club has entered into such a project and all indications point to its wide approval.

Determination of Ownership of Theatre Property May Be Necessary in Burglarly Case

Its furnishings and euipment under legal restriction for several weeks and just recently released, the Upland theater building, now known as the Studio theater, lost property valued at $500 to persons who enered the premises recently, according to police reports today.

In a recent settlement with Robert E. Baker, Garey Carr became connected with he furnishings and sound equipment. Shortly after Mr. Carr began preparations for the opening of the movie house, various articles of property were taken.

Police action in connection with the theft may depend largely on determination of the legal ownership of the property taken. Under the direction of an attorney Mr. Baker entered into legal procedure following the closing of the building several months ago. Only recently was a settlement made with Mr. Carr leasing the building.

CHAFFEY LECTURE SERIES PLANNED

Similar Program to One Held This Year Contemplated by Officials

So successful was the fiftieth anniversary celebration at Chaffey and the lectures on present day problems during the weeks prior to the celebration that a similar to the celebration that a similar program will be followed next year, Gardiner W. Spring, president of Chaffey junior college, said today.

Technocracy, reasons for Chicago's economic condition and California educational problems were discussed by distinguished speakers in a well planned community program, which was climaxed with the golden anniversary celebration last Friday.

Mr. Spring and the Chaffey board of trustees and others are seeking to create a more wholesome and cultural atmosphere in the Chaffey community and the presentation of the lecturers and celebration was the first of a series of such events.

Another anniversary celebration will not be held for several years. Mr. Spring predicted, but he plans to arrange for another series of lectures and entertainments to be started late in 1933 and continue until the spring of next year.

FREIGHT RATES ON CITRUS TO BE CUT

L. A. Strouse Tells of New Plan Adopted by Western Railroads for Growers

Of vital importance to local citrus growers is the announcement today that freight rates on the shipment of citrus fruit east has been made by the railroads. L. A. Strouse, chairman of the traffic committee of the California Citrus league, said the reduction amounts to 12 cents per hundred on oranges and grapefruit and 7 cents per hundred on lemons.

The new rates, agreed upon by western traffic executives, await the concurrence of the eastern railroads and the approval of the interstate commerce commission, both of which are said to be in accord with the plan.

This reduction is the outcome of negotiations extending over a considerable period between the California Citrus league and western railroads.

BUILDING LOANS CAN BE MADE NOW

Magnolia Association Able to Offer Local People Aid in Construction

Loans for construction of new buildings and for repairing or modernizing of present structures will be made by the Magnolia Building and Loan association, it was announced today by Don E. Palmer, secretary.

This is news due to the fact that for some time no building and loan associations have sought to make loans and the local concern is among the first of its kind to announce itself in a position to "consider applications for construction and remodeling loans."

"Feeling that money spent for labor and material will hasten the return of prosperity, we urge you to consider doing all necessary repairing and building now," Mr. Palmer said.

Due to the cooperation of the public in accepting the new ruling of decreased interest on investments, the association is able to make the announcement concerning loans, Mr. Palmer explained.

Recent state legislation decreased the rate of interest associations could pay depositors and at the same time decreased the rate that could be charged for loans.

TAX RELIEF HERE IS SEEN IN MOVE FOR NO. 1 REPEAL

State Assembly Passes Measure That May Equalize Local Tax Bill

RILEY PLAN IN FAVOR

Public Utilities Will Aid in Paying for County's Government

Likely to bring into realization a plan of tax equalization advocated for many years by local county leaders is the move taken in Sacramento yesterday for the repeal of amendment No. 1.

The state assembly made the first step in bringing into adoption what has been termed the "Riley plan," and which at the same time seeks to bring about a condition fought for by C. E. Grier of Upland. Repeal of amendment No. 1 would give to the counties the right to receive the tax on operative property of public utilities. Passed in 1910, the amendment has taken hundreds of thousands of dollars from this county in taxes.

The state at present receives a large share of its revenue from taxes on these operative properties. Counties tax real and other property. Repeal of the measure would relieve the local owners of real estate from the present heavy tax burden.

The bill to repeal the amendment and to make other changes in the system of taxation was passed by the assembly yesterday. If the senate adopts the plan, the proposal will be placed on the ballot at the next general election.

While the vote of Hobart Alter, local assemblyman, on the measure is not known definitely here today, it is known that while here last month he strongly endorsed the Riley plan.

The Riley tax plan provides for a modified form of sales tax and gross revenue tax to offset the loss to the state from the inoperation of amendment No. 1.

WINERIES LOOK TO NEW LAW AS BOOST

Cucamonga, Guasti Concerns Preparing to Produce Legal Beverage

While the present federal beer status is not satisfactory to the grape growers and wine producers in the district, several wine manufacturers in Cucamonga and Guasti are today preparing to issue wine after April 7 containing 3.2 per cent alcohol, according to announcements today.

The California Medicinal Wine Co., with its main plant on Eighth street, Cucamonga, and with offices in Los Angeles, and the Fruit Industries, Ltd., at Guasti, were all ready to begin de-alcoholizing its present wine stock to conform to the 3.2 per cent regulation, officials of the concerns have reported.

That beer or wine of 3.2 per cent cannot be sold in either Upland or Ontario is a fact re-affirmed today in the opinion of Edward F. Gray, Upland city attorney. Local ordinances and terms of deeds to local lots, dating back to the original founders of the colony, prohibit the sale of liquor.

Concerning the de-alcoholizing of the present wine stock, officials of the Fruit Industries said "it is an expensive process, but will require no additional equipment and will be done at our present plants Lowering the content by such a degree subtracts greatly from the taste and quality of 10 or 12 per cent wine."

James Vai, president of the California Medicinal Wine Co., said that any quantity of wine will be available at his plant within 30 days.

A slight increase in employment at the plants in this district and renewed optimism over the outlook for grapes is expected in connection with the operation of the federal liquor regulation.

Man Held in Upland Jail Found Guilty of Murder Charges

Held in the Upland city jail during the preliminary study of an asserted murder, Benito Reyes Cucamonga, was yesterday found guilty by a jury of murdering Antonio Seliz, Cucamonga musician. Body of the dead man was found by vineyard workers, who notified Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer, Dec. 5.

On circumstantial evidence Reyes was arrested and placed in the local jail, prior to being formally charged with the murder and taken to the county bastille. The jury recommended life imprisonment.

CHAMBER DECIDES AGAINST PAGEANT FOR PRESENT YEAR

Money Can Be Spent for More Urgent Purposes Idea of Board Members

ACCEPT RELIEF WORK JOB

Gibson Presented Life Membership for Service in Unemployment Cause

At a session last evening of the Upland Chamber of Commerce and Civic Association directors Colonel Wallace Taylor reported on the meeting of the emergency relief committee held last Thursday night and the organization accepted the responsibility of carrying on the work. This was in accordance with the desire of the committee, which was disbanded at last week's meeting.

On he chamber committee appointed to handle the unemployment and relief work announced are A. C. Reynolds, N. S. Lawson, Col. Wallace Taylor, Paul Schowalter and Leigh Thompson, these to have authority to call upon any other members of the board when they desire help in the work.

On account of action announced by the county board of supervisors it will hereafter not be permissable to employ men over 55 years of age or under 20 on these relief projects. As a committee to investigate the qualificaions of such men and to ascertain what can be done in their behalf President E. Tweed Stone named, including beside himself, A. C. Reynolds, chairman, Mayor McQuilen, Col. Taylor, R. G. Manley, Attorney Edward E. Gray and N. S. Lawson.

In recognition of the service rendered by E. H. Gibson as head of the old committee, the chamber directors passed the following resolution:

"Resolved by the Upland Chamber of Commerce and Civic Association that because of his outstanding service to this community in civic activities and in supervising the problems of unemployment relief, E. H. Gibson be accorded a life membership in this organization.

"Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this organization and that a copy signed by all directors of the Chamber of Commerce and Civic Association be presented to Mr. Gibson."

The resolution will be hand lettered on parchment and presented to Mr. Gibson, who is now out of the city on business, upon his return home. Uplanders will give unanimous approval to this recognition of his services, we are sure.

The directors also voted to "have a moratorium" on the Pioneer Pageant for this year and it will not be presented during 1933. It was felt money necessary to finance the pageant could be spent in other ways to better advantage at this time.

Endorsement was given the Santa Fe railroad's plan to conduct a special California excursion to the world's fair in Chicago in June, the tour to include various sightseeing stops to and from the exposition and a full week at the fair.

Hoarders Have Their Troubles

It is difficult to conceive how one hoarding any considerable amount of money can have very much peace of mind with it hidden around the premises. There is always the chance that someone will get possession of it in some way—and the hoarder must have many sleepless nights, as well as days filled with worry and anxiety.

Here's what the San Bernardino Sun has to say about hoarding:

"Hoarding isn't what it's cracked up to be, even if there were no law, legal or social, against it. Gold becomes heavy when carried around, and its clinking is embarrassing. Even banknotes, when in bales, are awkward to keep on one's person. At best, the carrier becomes self-conscious and is always afraid of being held up.

"The same fear dogs the days and haunts the nights of the hoarder who keeps unusual sums in the house. Every plea for food may disguise a prospective burglar. Every little noise in the dark sends the hoarder into a cold sweat.

"The actual care of the money is a real burden. People not used to keeping large sums around their homes hide it in all sorts of places. Then they have a terrible time remembering where they put it, or fearing somebody in the family will misplace it, and are driven to making the rounds again and again to make sure it's there. If they bury it in the yard, there is always the possibility that somebody has seen them do it, and will dig it up and get away with it.

"Not being a miserly nation, we have never learned how to hoard. There are plenty of nations that can beat us at it. Our natural disposition is to put money in the bank, for safety and for convenience. And that is what we shall doubtless do from now on, more than ever, as the new banking system is perfected."

The action taken against Chas. E. Mitchell, resigned chairman of the National City bank of New York City, may make some of the other "big boys" of the country sit up, take notice and do a little squirming—for who knows whose time will come next? Perhaps Mitchell is not the only "financial giant" who has evaded income tax payments by shady transactions. Think of one man cheating the government out of more than six hundred million dollars in one year! It appears that the national deficit would dwindle to a very small sum if everybody who beat the government out of income tax payments would turn honest for a change and pay that just portion of their gigantic incomes to the country that makes it possible for them to make their money. Several weeks ago Mitchell testified before the Senate stock market investigating committee that he had sold several million dollars worth of stock in the National City bank to a relative at a loss and had charged this loss against his income tax return, thereby avoiding payment of income tax for that year. Shortly afterward he bought the stock back. It is very apparent to the authorities, and everybody else, that the transaction was made for no other reason than to avoid the tax payment. Here's hoping the authorities have luck in ferreting out some of the other fellows who have been guilty of just such deals as this in order to defraud their country—and lay the burden of taxation on others who are much less able to pay it.

We heard the statement the other evening that had the recent earthquake occurred six hours earlier in the day than it did 10,000 school children would have lost their lives. Thus is it any wonder that there has sprung up all of a sudden a demand that public buildings be built more substantially? Think of 10,000 lives being lost because of school buildings having not been built properly! What will some people do for money? It should not have taken a catastrophe like that of a few days ago to bring people to the state of mind where they demand safety in building construction. There have been plenty of earthquakes before—and yet contractors were permitted to erect structures which it was known would not stand such shocks. Millions of dollars have been spent on such buildings. But what do the lives of a few thousand people amount to if money can be saved when we put up school houses and other buildings—that seems to have been the attitude when some contracts were let. And in other cases no doubt the specifications were not followed. Earthquake proof buildings should be demanded—and there should be only persons of unquestioned honesty placed in position where they will see that we get them.

Some of the people who depended upon the "big boys" for advice as to investments in years past have undoubtedly decided before now that their own guess could not have been any worse than that of those who were supposed to be on the inside and know what was safe for the investor. And it seems to have developed that those so-called "big boys" have turned out to be about as small as the smallest. They were handing out advice they knew was "rotten" and fleeced those they were advising. Is there any stage of human morals any lower than that? It is one thing to "outsmart" a person in a business deal—but to betray the confidence one has in you is getting right down to the lowest stage to which humans can fall.

—o—

Some people apparently think there will never be a rainy day—they don't save for it. Then there are others who think there are not enough rainy days—for instance, we Southern Californians would like a few of them right now.

—o—

We dispute the claim of the fellow who says that if all the cars in the country were parked side by side, except one—that one would be just behind his so he couldn't get out. We've always noticed it's just behind ours.

Just read that a "hen-rooster" owned by a woman in Indiana lays an egg every other day and crows on the alternate days. All of the "hen-roosters" we know just do the crowing.

—o—

"Most of our educators are women," so we are told, which is not news to us.. Most of the bosses are women, also—and that isn't any news, either—though most men won't admit it.

—o—

And another difference between a bachelor and a married man is that when the bachelor is walking the floor with a baby—he is dancing.

—o—

Usually it's a pretty good idea to shun the salesman who tries to sell you something "just as good" instead of what you want.

If all those former Iowans in Long Beach go back home there won't be much use in attempting to rebuild that city.

Other Editors' Ideas

A Group of Little Neros

Covina Argus: If congress doesn't quit playing politics, the people will adjourn congress. Even the staid old Los Angeles Times says so in no uncertain terms in an editorial last Sunday morning.

It is not merely a statement, or a wish, when we say that the people of this country are aroused. It is a fact. There was an ominous rumbling, more menacing to Washington, D. C., than was the one heard at Long Beach last week, when it was learned that Democratic congressmen were refusing to follow the mandates of their own caucus, and to stand by the president's program. Party lines split, and Republicans saved the day, but Republicans have been just as obstructive in past years. Politics, saving jobs for somebody and themselves, while the country is sunk in misery!

Will these politicians ever learn, or must the people rise up and throw them out of Washington? The prophet said: "Beware the anger of a patient man."

Congress has obstructed and defied three of our presidents since the war, making their attempts at reconstruction futile. Congressmen should realize that the country can be run without them, if need be. And it is coming to that, if they persist in saving jobs instead of saving the country.

Courage Needed in Crisis

Glendora Press: To a very large extent, the speed and extent of the recovery which this country is going to make from the depression depends on the amount of courage possessed by its individual citizens.

We are no longer groping blindly in a fog, seeing grisly phantoms dimly outlined in the mist and starting nervously at the sound of our footfalls. That stage has been passed. The way ahead is beginning to open and the fog is lifting.

The rest of it is pretty largely up to us. Sooner or later it is going to simmer down to a question—to use an inelegant and forceful expression — of how much guts we have got.

We are going to need courage, first of all, because the process of recovery isn't going to be quick and automatic.

Right now we are keyed up to a high pitch of encouragement. We have a fearless pilot and he has a good course well charted. We must have the nerve to realize that we still have a long way to go; the nerve to take temporary delays and sebacks in our stride without getting disheartened.

The Stuffed Shirts Retire

Beverly Hills Citizen: The American people are out of patience, not with conditions abroad over which they have no control, but out of patience with conditions at home which they intend to control. They are convinced that the conditions which brought about the present emergency are in no small part to be laid at the door of the big bankers of New York who made our circulating medium responsive to their cupidity and avarice, to add to already swollen fortunes.

If President Roosevelt meant by his inauguration speech that he meant that these men in high places shall be shorn of their power to sheer the sheep, he will have a battle but it wil l be a brief one. The stuffed shirts will retire as gracefully as they can if we have found a leader for the gallus brigade.

World's Greatest Egotist

Beverly Hills Citizen: And then it remained for that sublimated ass, Walter Winchell, to get on the radio the next night after the earthquake and tell everybody everywhere that Hollywood was dead forever, the studios hopelessly involved and that New York would be the future center of the movie industry. Certainly the radio does a lot for Los Angeles.

Here's How It Works

San Bernardino Sun: If we have twice as many dollars, and use every dollar twice as much, there's four times as much business and about sixteen times as much prosperity. On with circulation!

SCHOOL ECONOMIES SUBJECT OF TALK

Harold Cook Discusses Various Proposals and Tendencies for Lions

Touching upon the proposal to consolidate elementary school districts, and discussing "fads and frills" of education, Harold W. Cook, local school superintendent, spoke at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club at noon yesterday.

A proposal before the state legislature calls for merging all elementary school districts in the state into the high school districts, Mr. Cook said, giving California 297 school districts, instead of the present 3897 districts. Proponents of the plan cite the following advantages, the speaker said; closer relation between schools, saving in administrative cost, economies in transportation and in purchase of supplies.

Mr. Cook did not take sides on the question, but expressed doubt if the proposed economies would actually be realized. "For example, if a person in Fontana has a grievance or some other matter for consideration by the superintendent or an executive, will that person be willing to come to Chaffey to discuss it "

The state department of education is opposing the proposed merger because it forces all districts to be consolidated, whether they want to or not, the local educator explained, adding that the present laws outline a procedure for consolidation.

Mr. Cook described "fads and frills" as those courses "taught now that were not taught when an objector went to school," A school library, kindergarten, physical education, and arts and music are features of the present school commonly looked upon as "fads and frills," the speaker said.

Mr. Cook defended the kindergarten by saying that in general the children having the advantage of kindergarten training are known to make greater progress in their regular school work.

The modern school is interested in teaching students to think, he said, in pointing out the necessity of having a school library to provide students with various reference and educational books.

The folly of teaching students facts and figures and improving their mentality, but neglecting their physical structure is recognized by modern educators, who look upon a physical education program as vital.

People have more leisure time now than ever and they will likely have additional leisure, Mr. Cook said, and explained that the arts and music developed an appreciation for the cultural things of life so that people could enjoy and profit by their leisure time.

Southern California Edison Co. in Sound Financial Condition

Stockholders of the Southern California Edison Company, Ltd., at their annual meeting in the Edison building auditorium, Los Angeles, unanimously voted the election of two officers of the company to serve as new members of the board of directors and re-elected the eleven incumbent board members who served during the past year. The new directors are Fred B. Lewis, vice-president and general manager, and Roy V. Reppy, vice-president and general counsel. Both men are veterans in the Edison company organization.

"The year 1932 was another year of declining gross earnings, but we are pleased to report that the company successfully met the test and closed the year in a sound financial position," Harry J. Bauer, chairman of thhe board, said. "Gross earnings for the year ended Dec. 31, 1932, amounted to $57,158,391, as compared with $40,715,933 the previous year, a decrease of $3,557,542. The decline in gross earnings was primarily due to further contraction of industrial and commercial activities of large consumers. The contraction of these activities temporarily defers full benefits to be derived from the load already connected to our lines and which will become increasingly productive as business conditions improve. We had an emple supply of water in 1932 and the precipitation thus far this year strongly indicates that we shall have a plentiful supply for the year 1933."

Mr. Bauer also stated the earthquake damage suffered by the company would not exceed $150,000 and may be considerably less, the damage being covered by insurance.

Know Your City? Here Are Facts!

Do you know your city and facts about your county government?

Often times interesting facts about the community are unnoticed by many persons.

For example, do you know the names of the city councilmen? How many public schools are there in Upland? Is the Santa Fe depot in Upland or Ontario? Who besides C. E. Grier represents a portion of the West End of the county on the county board of supervisors?

As a basis for a little contest, if individuals want to make it such, and as a means of listing pertinent information about the city, county and southland, questions are listed here. The questions are numbered. At the end of the article are the answers to the questions, the answer bearing the same number as the question.

1—Who are the Upland city councilmen?

2—How is the mayor chosen?

3—What did the last government census give as the population of Upland?

4—Who are the directors of the Upland chamber of commerce?

5—Who besides C. E. Grier represents a portion of the West End of the county on the board of supervisors?

6—How many are on the board of supervivsors?

7—How far west do the city limits extend?

8—How many public schools are there in Upland?

9—Under terms of the proposed zoning law, is business permitted on Foothill boulevard?

10—In list of largest cities in the United States, where does Los Angeles come?

11—How many square miles within the Upland city limits.

12—What is the yearly average rainfall in Upland?

Here Are the Answers

1—P. H. McQuillen, A. H. Johnson, Fletcher H. Manker, Godfrey Andreas and Elmer Mathews.

2—By vote of the councilmen themselves, one of their number being salected for a two-year term.

3—4737. Since then the annexation of the district west of Euclid between the Santa Fe tracks and Arrow highway, has brought the total to approximately 5,000 persons within the city limits.

4—Paul Schowalter, J. E. Sargent, E. C. Mehl, H. M. Guy, Ernest Stone, L. N. Kirk, Owen E. Atwood, James E. Goodban, A. C. Reynolds, Wallace C. Taylor, Leigh Thompson and Norman S. Lawson.

8—Four.

9—Yes, from 165 feet east of Euclid avenue to the eastern city limits.

10—Fifth. New York is first, then Philadelphia, Chicago and Detroit.

11—10.76 square miles.

12—Approximately 21.89 inches.

Chaffey Election Is Contest Center

On March 31, Upland voters in the Chaffey district will aid in the selection of two of the three candidates as members of the Chaffey board and to re-elect Clyde DuVall as a member of the Upland elementary school board.

Mr. DuVall filed nomination papers for re-election late Tuesday. Prior to the closing period his attitude was that as he had held the position for one term he would not run for re-election if any other person was nominated.

Others on the Upland board are Glenn M. Atwood and Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson.

Principal contest in the Chaffey district will be between Dr. A. L. Weber and H. S. Barbee, who are up for re-election, and H. I. DeBerard, a new candidate.

As the board is at present organized, each district in the Chaffey area is represented, Mr. Barbee representing the eastern end; Dr. Weber and T. W. Nisbet, Upland, Alta Loma and Cucamonga, and N. E. Trautman and John McCutchen, Ontario.

Result of the March 31 voting may change this territorial representation slightly. Re-election of the two men, however, will continue the present plan.

Mr. DeBerard is widely known throughout the West End section, having been a citrus and grape grower for many years.

Dr. Weber is president of the Chaffey board. Mr. Barbee was appointed last year to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. C. Jones.

LOCAL SCIENTIST SPEAKS TONIGHT

Harold Merchant Will Appear at Meeting Honoring Oxygen Discoverer

A public meeting to honor Joseph Priestley on the bi-centenary anniversary of his birth will be held at the Unitarian church in Pomona tonight at 8 o'clock. The program will consist of talks by professors of chemistry and sociology.

The first talk will be given by Prof. Harold E. Merchant of Chaffey and will be on "Priestley's Contribution to Science," illustrated by chemical experiments re-enacted on the platform to show how Priestley proceeded in his greatest experiment, the discovery of oxygen.

Mr. Merchant is a native of Shell Rock, Iowa. He came to California with his parents in 1914 and has since resided in Upland. His undergraduate training in science was received at Chaffey, Pomona college and the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena. After graduating from Pomona college in 1921 he served for two years as chemist in the cement plant at Colton, returning to Chaffey to teach in 1922. In 1926 he received the degree of Master in Science from his Alma Mater, Pomona college.

In recent years, Mr. Merchant has been specializing in soil chemistry and in March, 1931, published an article on soil nitrates in "Citrus Leaves," the organ of the Mutual Orange Distributors. He lives in Upland with his wife and ten year old daughter. He will be assisted by Horton Swisher of Ontario, a senior in Pomona college and chemistry assistant at Chaffey.

"Camille" Is April Show at Padua Hills

With Mary Blaisdell Harris and Arlington Brugh in the leading roles, "Camille," by Alexandre Dumas, the younger, has been selected as the April production of the Claremont Community Players and will be presented April 4 to 9, inclusive. This will mark Mrs. Harris's first appearance on the Players' stage, except for a one-act play, and the famous part of "The Lady of the Camelias" will be an excellent vehicle, one ably suited to her dramatic abilities. Appearing opposite her as Armand Duval, Arlington Brugh popular Claremont actor, will once again carry an important role for the Players. He last appeared in "The Old Trouper," which won second place in the Los Angeles county tournament.

Bill Henry of Upland, who carried a part in one of the plays at Padua Hills this week, has been chosen as one of the "Camille" cast.

STUDIO THEATER OPENING MARKED

Garey Carr Presents First Picture With Week-End Program Announced

The Studio theater here was formally opened last night with many Uplanders and others from the adjacent territory attending the showing of "King's Vacation," featuring George Arliss.

With the theater building already known for its cozy atmosphere and fine sound equipment, the re-opening last night under the management of Garey Carr was evidence that the people here appreciate a home-town theater. Formerly with the Fox-West Coast organization, Mr. Carr is an experienced theatrical manager, as shown by the manner in which he conducted the first program.

The theater will show "She Done Him Wrong," with Mae West featured tonight and tomorrow night. For the matinee program tomorrow afternoon "Mysterious Rider" will be presented.

The program for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will be "Child of Manhattan," with John Boles and Nancy Carrol in the leading roles.

Interesting Guests Conclude Visit in Metz Home—

Several Long Beach friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Metz, who have been guests in the Metz home on West Eleventh street for the past two weeks, having come out the day after the earthquake, departed today, some of them returning to Long Beach and others going to Palm Springs for several days.

In the group of guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Marlett, Mr. Marlett being vice-president of the Seaside Investment Co. and manager of the Pike; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cresh, owners of two large concessions on the Pike, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Motsch and daughter, Merrylin.

Mr. Motsch is head of the Rule & Son insurance brokerage firm, and he stated that less than one per cent of the property owners in Long Beach had their buildings covered with earthquake insurance.

One operation no woman enjoys is having her credit cut off at the stores.

URGENT PLEA FOR RED CROSS FUNDS

Relief Contributions Coming in Slowly—Immediate Aid Badly Needed

With less than $40,000 contributed to the Red Cross, the official relief agency in the earthquake district for relief of the earthquake victims, in the two weeks since the disaster occurred, the relief fund is far short of that needed to meet the immediate needs of he homeless and hungry people in Long Beach and surrounding towns,and the Red Cross officials are making urgent appeals to the people of California and the Pacific coast states to aid their stricken neighbors.

Thousands of people were driven into the streets by the earthquake and are being temporarily sheltered in tents. They cannot return to their homes until those homes are rebuilt or repaired. Many of them have lost all their possessions and are entirely dependent upon whatever aid is given them. Thousands of men, women and children have no food, and no means of cooking the food if they had it. They must be fed until order is again restored. They must have clothing and shelter and medical care for the sick.

The Red Cross is not aiding in the rebuilding of the cities. It is concerned only with the immediate relief of the suffering refugees.

When Long Beach was smiling and happy, people from all parts of the state found pleasure on its sunny beaches and liked to enjoy the hospitality of the city. Now that Long Beach lies stricken and thousands of its people are in need of immediate relief, can the people of Upland and California do less than to give them food for a few weeks?

Red Cross headquarters is urging every chapter in the state to do its utmost to reach its quota not later than Friday night, March 31.

Upland's quota is $800. Mrs. R. C. Norton, chairman of the local chapter, and Mrs. H. W. Flowers, treasurer, report the contributions in Upland so far are $453.

Dr. A. A. Aita and the San Antonio Community hospital staff have contributed $25, this sum being in addition to the personal service rendered in the earthquake area by several of the nurses who hurried down at the first call. From first hand information they recognize the pressing need for immediate aid.

Contributions may be left at either of the banks or the chamber of commerce office, and all organizations as well as individuals are urged to contribute.

The following names of contributors are in addition to the previously published lists and include those donating up to Thursday night:

Harold Snyder, Mrs. W. P. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Durham, Mrs. E. J. Statom, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Lemon, Rollin Lemon, Mr. and Mrs. William Trunkfield, Highland Ranch, C. W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baeuerlen, Emily J. Austin, J. E. Beitzell, John C. Barr, Miss Frances Barr, Mrs. Nellie Mason, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. West, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mehl, J. C. Goodrich, Miss Emma Lincoln, Mrs. J. D. Farnsworth, Miss Etta Johnston, Miss Rosa Dool, San Antonio hospital staff (100 per cent) including Dr. A. A. Aita, Mrs Elizabeth Lehman, Mildred Ripp, Mabel Jensen, Mrs. Irene Kluckner, Leona Richenson, Ruth Horsch, W. R. Kluckner, Johnnie Hall, Elmer J. France, Roy Duque, Al Cabanez, Mariano Duque, Joe Miranda, Stanley Cabonoc, Henrietta Johns, Catherine Sater, Lilly Grobli, Cornelia Merry and Nettie Stutzman.

Ontario Council Meets and Hears Plans—Program Is Presented

At the request of the fathers, the Ontario Council of Parent-Teacher association has decided to compile and mimeograph in leaflet form information concerning the achievements of the national and state organiaztions.

Alhough the Congress of Parents and Teachers is non-political, non-sectarian and non-commercial, and never endorses any political candidate, it has been influential in securing passage of such legislation as pure-food, mothers' pensions and child labor laws.

These facts were brought out at a meeting Wedneday afternoon of the Ontario council held in the San Antonio school building in Ontario with the council president, Mrs. C. L. Cochran, presiding.

During the morning session Miss Lois LeBaron Avery conducted one of her very interesting classes in public speaking and parliamentary law and Miss Bertha Schwarzwaelder, Ontario city nurse and council chairman of the summer roundup, gave detailed instructions regarding the clinics for pre-school children and emphasized the benefits to the child of the correction of any physical defects during vacation.

The date for registration for the coming summer roundup is May 1, Miss Schwarzwaelder announced.

Election of a nominating committee resulted in the naming of Mrs. L. M. Corn, chairman, Mrs. George Steelman of Fontana, Mrs. A. A. Werner of Etiwanda, Mrs. K. W. Fuller and Mrs. Hugo Larson.

Mrs. J. A. Curlett, president of the San Antonio P.-T. A., and Miss Dora Schowalter, a teacher, each extended a welcome to their guests and the hostess association served luncheon at noon.

The entertainment program included two dances by pupils of Miss Dorothy Williams, vocal solos by Mrs. Fred Reed, a skit by members of the association, and singing by the Mothers chorus, directed by Mrs. Harold J. Stickney and Mrs. Ralph J. Wilson.

The kindly old lady who was visiting the penitentiary looked in upon a melancholy convict who sat on his bunk with his head in his hands.

"And why are you here, my poor man?" she inquired.

The convict raised mournful eyes. "They've got all the doors locked," he said simply.

State Ranks Sixth in Appropriations for Forestry Work

California ranks only sixth in the total amount of money appropriated in 1932 for forestry purposes by 46 states and Hawaii and Puerto Rico, according to a report received from the U. S. Forest Service at Washington, D. C. In order of amount of appropriations, the leading states are:

New York, $2,014,458; Pennsylvania, $1,174,080; Wisconsin, $708,638; Michigan, $529,148; Massachusetts, $427,358; and California, $338,835.

California spent $281,267 for fire protection and the balance for administration, purchase of lands, maintenance, research and extension. Four states, Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania and New York, spent more than California for fire prevention, and the first three spent the most on forestry education. New York expended $615,530 on reforestration, followed by Hawaii with $123,189 and Wisconsin, $76,910. New York also led by a large margin in expenditure for the eradiction of tree diseases, $75,000, and the control of forest insect pests, $121,000.

Wistaria Fete Draws Many to Sierra Madre

With the most auspicious opening of its history, the 18th annual Wistaria Fete of Sierra Madre is well on its way. Since St. Patrick's day, when the combined wistaia blooming, open-air flower show and garden tours opened at the little city at the foot of Mount Wilson, more than 10,000 have passed beneath the palm-thatched entrance to the "Court of the Flowers," a record which has never been equalled before.

The fete will not close until April 9, and complete enjoyment of the giant vine with its lavendar canopy of bloom is assured during the entire period, as many parts of the vine came into bloom for the first time this week, caused by the warm weather. Mrs. Estelle Haines Fennel, owner and cultivator of the vine for twenty years, is authority for the statement that the bloom is as lovely this year as at any year of its history.

The garden tours, which include visits to a number of well known Sierra Madre estates, have been very popular. It was also announced that the tours cannot be made on Sundays, due to the impossibility of accommodating the large crowds.

HOSPITAL TESTS PROVE EFFECTIVE

Dr. Aita Tells of Work in Determining Pregnancy as Aid to Doctors

In 83 cases the San Antonio Communiay hospital laboratory has been 100 per cent in determining pregnancy during the last two years, Dr. A. A. Aita, manager, said today in reporting on the scientific phases of the hospital work.

Using the Aschheim-Zondek test, the hospital is proving to be an aid to individuals and to doctors in diagnosing cases, Dr. Aita explained. He cited a case this week in which a patient underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor, after the test had proven that the woman was not pregnant. In almost all cases, the test is made without identity of the individual being known by hospital authorities, the doctors merely calling upon the hospital officials to make the test.

This service was given for the first time after the arrival of Dr. Aita as manager and as far as is known, the local hospital is the first one outside the metropolitan area giving the service.

VALENCIA, NAVEL GROWERS SIGN UP

Exchange Announces That Plan of Shipping in Effect Under New Rule

The Exchange Valencia orange agreement has been signed by over 96 per cent of all Sunkist orange shippers and was officially placed in operation Wednesday by the board of directors of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, according to announcement of Paul S. Armstrong, general manager.

"This agreement gives the Central Exchange board full authority to act for its members in prorating and distributing the 1932 Valencia crop," said Mr. Armstrong.

"Furthermore, it places the Exchange in a position to quickly act as a unit in any plans which may be worked out and agreed upon between the Exchange and other shippers in a joint program to stabilize the Valencia market this season."

Acting on this authority the Exchange board approved in principle the Valencia stabilization agreement worked out by the joint stabilization committee of the Farm Bureau. The Exchange is now prepared to enter into the agreement as soon as changes suggested by various marketing organizations have been reconciled by the Farm Bureau committee and the document is submitted in final form for signature.

The Exchange Navel orange agreement has been signed by over 89 per cent of the Sunkist Navel shippers. It is expected that this document will likewise be approved in the near future by the additional percentage necessary to make it effective.

Naval Agreement Wins Approval

"Following the announcement that the Exchange Valencia orange agreement had been subscribed to by over 96 per cent of the membership, it is particularly gratifying to announce that the Navel orange agreement has now been signed by more than the requisite 90 per cent and is also in effect," said Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the Exchange, today.

Both of these agreements are accordingly officially in operation by action of the board of directors of the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

"With around 12,000 cars, or 50 per cent of the Navel crop still on the trees, this is welcome news to the growers interested in that variety" stated the Exchange head. "For this agreement, which gives the Exchange authority to exercise control over its volume of shipments of both packed and loose fruit, places 70 per cent of the California orange industry, members of the Exchange, in a position to co-operate definitely on a common program of market stabilization.

"This is an insufficient percentage to accomplish shipment regulation and surplus control by itself. It is greatly to be hoped that the other shippers and marketing agencies operating in this industry will be willing to join with the Exchange in a joint program to accomplish this purpose. This can be done along the lines of the stabilization agreement proposed by the Farm Bureau stabilization committee, whose plan has been approved in principle by the Exchange board."

"We consider that now is the time to set aside divergent beliefs and join immediately in a common program for the general good of all growers. We earnestly make this appeal in order that the individual grower, regardless through which organization he markets, shall have the maximum opportunity to secure a better return on this season's crop."

Jubilee Singers Coming to Upland

Of special interest on March 31 will be the appearance in the Fellowship hall, Upland Methodist church, of the Dixie Jubilee quartet, under the auspices of the high school department of the Sunday school. The quartet, shown here, has made previous appearances in Upland and at each time has increased its number of admirers.

The old plantation melodies take on new and more interesting charms when sung by the jubilee group, the singers having that harmonious blend of voices that always makes a male quartet so popular.

A silver offering will be taken for the benefit of the church department.

Traveler To Give Illustrated Talk in Local Church

Plans for the presentation here of Dr. A. Nelien, well-known traveler and philanthropist of Los Angeles, in an illustrated travelogue, were made at the meeting Monday night of the Missionary League of the Methodist church. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Spies on third avenue, with the president, Mrs. W. R. Farmer, presiding. Other business transacted included the donation of $5 to the re-building fund for churches in the earthquake area.

During the meeting a delectable dessert course was served and the major portion of the evening was spent in making surgical bandages to be sent to a medical missionary in Africa.

The travel lecture is to be given in Fellowship hall on Friday evening, April 28, at 7:30, and will be open to the public.

Dr. Nelien, who gave a similar program here last year, is a man of wealth and will take no pay for his lectures, being content to share freely with others the pleasures and information he has obtained from his travels throughout the world. He has many beautifully colored stereopticon pictures that he shows to illustrate his talk.

A silver offering will be taken and half the proceeds will go to the re-building fund for Methodist churches in the earthquake area. The remainder will be used by the league in its local welfare work.

Attending the meeting Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jenison, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenison, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Engle, Miss Florence Mehl, Miss Elizabeth Fossett, Eddie Clauson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Marr, Mrs. W. R. Farmer, Mrs. B J. Van Orsdel of Oregon, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Trunkfield, and Mrs. Spies and her father, the Rev. Z. J. Farmer.

LAST SHIPMENT OF FLOUR IS RECEIVED

Mrs. R. C. Norton, Chairman Red Cross Chapter, Tells of Supplies Given

The final shipment of government flour, that has been distributed by the American Red Cross for relief of the unemployed, has been received by Mrs. R. C. Norton, chairman of the Upland chapter of Red Cross, and will be distributed in the district served by the local chapter as the need arises.

This shipment, which will be the last received in Upland, consists of 90 barrels, or 720 sacks of flour.

Since this flour was made available by the Red Cross last fall, the Upland chapter has received a total of 244 barrels of 196 pounds each, according to Mrs. Norton, all of which has been distributed to local needy families.

During that time there also has been distributed large quantities of cotton yardage and cotton clothing, manufactured from government owned cotton and handled entirely by the Red Cross.

Of this cotton goods, the Upland chapter has received a total of 2000 yards of goods and garments, including sweaters, overalls, trousers, underwear, hose etc. Itemized, these articles are: 49 dozen sweaters, 182 dozen pairs of hose, underwear, trousers and overalls; 135 blankets, 45 comforters and material for 36 pairs of sheets.

The yardage has been made up by volunteer workers meeting in the sewing room in the Upland public library and practically all of the last allotment has now been made into garments.

Mrs. Norton has been assured by Red Cross headquarters that the chapter may again requisition supplies of cotton goods for next fall and the order is now being made and will be sent in at once, assuring delivery in the early fall.

The music will be interspersed by stories and pictures of the Christian scriptures. The large chorus choir of the church will sing Havens' "There's a Friend in the Homeland."

"For Weariness, There is Rest and Strength" is to be the message of the minister at the morning worship, "a message for the times in which we live."

Mrs. Ben Schmidt will sing the appropriate "O Rest in the Lord" from Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah;" and the choir will give Barnby's great anthem, "Grant us Thy Mercy."

Both Sunday school and church are enlivened by the Eastertide Evangel, announces the minister. Careful preparations have been made to insure the largest possible benefits for the people at this high tide of religious truth and worship. The general public is invited to all the services of the church.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The words of the Psalmist, "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations," constitute the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Reality" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of the Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon includes these verses from Isaiah. "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

Among the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the statements: "God creates all forms of reality. His thoughts are spiritual realities." "God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and Life."

Noted Minister To Conduct Meeting at Ontario M. E. Church

The Rev. William A. Brown, D. D., comes to the First Methodist church of Ontario to hold a special series of meetings for eight days, beginning Sunday, March 26, continuing throughout the week and over the following Sunday, April 12. Dr. Brown has had a distinguished career as a missionary, as field secretary of many special movements and of the interdenominational Sunday school work, as well as pastor of leading churches of his denomination in North and South America.

A few years ago he left the University church of Los Angeles to serve the large Methodist church in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He is not a professional evangelist, but in addition to outstanding ability as a speaker he is notably successful as a counselor in personal religious perplexities. The nature of his work has kept him in vital touch with all the religious movements of the day, among the latest being the celebrated Oxford Movement. As an old time friend of the pastor, Dr. C. O. Kimball, he comes to assist the latter in this special Lenten series of meetings.

Dr. Brown will speak both morning and evening next Sunday. Beginning Monday he will each day hold "clinical" Bible studies at 10 a. m., personal interviews at the church from 3 to 5 p. m., and lectures on "The Abundant Life" at 7.30 p. m. All these services are for the public. Everybody is cordially invited.

FISHERMEN FACE BRIGHT FUTURE

Thousands of Trout Placed in Streams As Aid to Fans in Coming Season

Fishermen's paradise is "just around the corner."

May 1 marks the turn of the corner, or in more actual terms, marks the beginning of the time when local fishermen can begin their nimrod campaign with the prospect the brightest in recent history.

Fish, 6 to 9 inches in length have been placed in local streams by the thousands, according to Roy Creighton, local merchant. Each year the state fish and game commission has been more energetic in "planting" fish of catchable size in the streams and the start of the fishing season will find the streams stocked with more trout than ever through this method.

Approximaely 200,000 fish are yet to be placed in the popular streams and lakes of the San Bernardino mountain district. When the statement is made that the coming season is going to be better than ever, much must be taken into consideration. Last season was the best for several seasons and the prospect has to be pretty good to warrant the remark that the 1933 period is going to be even better.

Mr. Creighton, however, was very firm and sincere in making the statement. He backed it up with figures as to just how many fish were going into the various places.

It is the policy of the commission to plant the fish over a period of six months prior to the opening of the season and shortly afterwards. This plan enables all the streams and lakes to get a share and to give the nimrod fans a fresh supply from time to time.

The fish are produced at the various hatcheries and distributed in the most favorable places.

The Tigers have a strong record so far this season and they are scheduled to give the Riverside team a tough time. Chaffey has won dual meets with the junior college, Webb school and Pomona college freshmen and lost the Southern Counties meet to El Centro by one-half a point.

Former Aid With Panther Gridders on U. S. C. Staff

He will assist Head Coach Howard Jones in spring practice and also in the fall season.

ALTA LOMA-CUCAMONGA

Club Women Entertained

Enjoying a very capable book review and a delightful innovation in the form of a musical tea, more than 30 members of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club met Thursday in regular session at the home of Mrs. W. J. Parsons 1374 North Hellman avenue, Mrs. H. L. Salisbury being the assisting hostess.

The rooms and the tea table were charmingly decorated with many spring flowers, with the lovely white iris predominating.

Mrs. E. S. Bishop, club president, conducted a short business meeting, at which the members decided to aid in extending relief to a family whose home was recently burned, and all contributions of clothing, bedding and other supplies are to be turned over to Mrs. Arthur Bridge.

The book review was presented by Mrs. W. E. Leonard of San Bernardino, vice-president of the San Bernardino County Federation of Women's clubs, who very ably discussed three books each of non-fiction and fiction.

In the first group she gave particular attention to the "Life of Mary Todd Lincoln," presenting a comprehensive outline of the book. Other non-fiction books reviewed were "Beyond the Blue Sierras," a California story, and "The British Agent," a biography.

In the fiction group Mrs. Leonard reviewed interestingly "Pocahontas," "Pageant" and "Erie Water."

The musical part of the program was presented during the tea hour, and included a group of violin solos by Stewart Parsons, nephew of the hostess, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Renfro; several piano numbers by Mrs. Renfro, who played throughout the serving of the tea, and assembly singing of popular songs, including some Irish numbers, led by Mrs. Carrie Baker, principal of the Alta Loma school.

The two hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. Stewart Parsons.

Mrs. Bishop announced the next meeting, that of April 13, will be held at the home of Mrs. L. R. Thomas, with Mrs. Arthur G. Phelps, assisting. It is expected to have an address by an interior decorator.

Mrs. J. H. Ashmead of West Baseline expects to attend the meeting of the Princeton club, a group of former residents of Princeton, Ind., to be held in Los Angeles tomorrow. She will spend the week-end in the city with her daughter, Miss Katherine Ashmead.

Motoring to Long Beach Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harvey were met by relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Waggoner and son, of Santa Monica, and together they enjoyed a picnic dinner in the park.

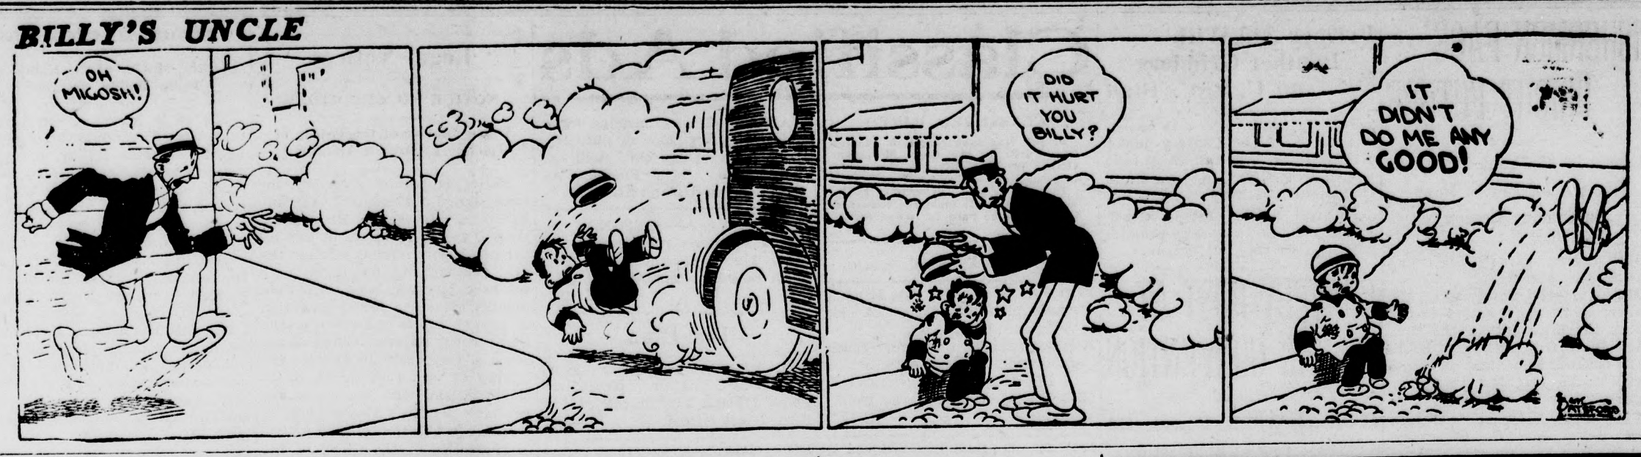

Mrs. M. I. McCarty and daughter, Miss Vivian McCarty, spent Monday in San Dimas looking after business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis and son, Martin, were guests Wednesday evening at a birthday dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lacey in Upland, in honor of their daughter, Leota Lankford, and their friend, Hiram Hopkins, of Claremont.
